

HOEFER WELKER

DESIGNED TO DO MORE

ABOUT US

Designs aren't simply ideas and lines, and buildings are greater than bricks and mortar. From concept to completion, your project has its own needs and considerations. It's why listening is just as important as drafting, and why communication leads to better creation.

Founded in 1996, Hoefer Welker is a full-service design firm, bringing diversified expertise to every job and always thinking both outside and inside the box. Offering architecture, interior design, MEP engineering and technology consulting, we're collaborators and trend-setters, thoughtful and thorough—yet never typical. We know nothing's more valuable than lessons learned, and our years of experience allow us to better understand your needs, business, process and culture—then relentlessly infuse that passion and energy into every detail. It's the difference between simply engaging an architectural firm and gaining a trusted partner.

We know the best ideas and solutions come from all voices and backgrounds, so we're proud to carry the torch of collaboration—to challenge each other, share knowledge among our clients and recruit the best talent from around the world. It's how we deliver brilliant, yet fundable, solutions to your project. It's how we take designs beyond the boards. It's how we're designed—to do more.
